Monomer polyoxyethylene ether

Monomer polyoxyethylene ether is the main raw material for high performance polycarboxylate superplasticizer with the properties of non-toxic, non-corrossive and good water-soluble. High performance polycarboxylate superplasticizer made from Monomer polyoxyethylene ether has such advantages as superior dispersing maintenance, low dosage, high water reducing ratio, good adhensive property, good reinforcing effects, good durability, no corrosion to steel bar and environment-friendly etc. PCE made from Monomer polyoxyethylene ether can be used to produce high performance, high strength commercial concrete at work site or long-distant convey.

Performance

Appearance (25±1℃)	White or light yellow flaky solid
pH Value (1% water solution)	5.0-7.0
Unsaturation mmol/g	≥ 0.38

Product application:

1, Suitable for high performance concrete, high flowability concrete, high durability concrete, aluminous-cement refractory concrete, low-cement refractory castables, steam curing concrete, self-leveling concrete and so on.

2, suitable for grouting material,self-leveling floor,gypsum products,joint sealer,high strength mortar and so on.

3, especially suitable for special mortar with high strength and high flowability.
